Denver Deserves Sidewalks! Petition March 31, 2016

As Denver's population grows, the City must provide the basic infrastructure that allows people to safely and easily get around.

Walkable neighborhoods with good sidewalks are the foundation of a complete transportation system that offers practical options including: transit, walking, biking, car share, ride share, bike share, and driving a personal vehicle. Good sidewalks are particularly important for the one-third of the population that doesn't drive due to age, disability, or income.

Currently Denver property owners are responsible for building and maintaining sidewalks adjacent to their property. Sidewalk repairs can cost a property owner thousands of dollars. Lax enforcement of the current sidewalk policy means that many Denver neighborhoods have substandard or no sidewalks at all.

A fee of $5-$10 per month (for an average property) would provide a sustainable funding source for building new sidewalks, repairing old sidewalks, and upgrading substandard sidewalks throughout Denver.

I therefore join with WalkDenver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks, and to establish a dedicated funding source (such as a property fee) for this purpose.

Dear Denver City Council Members,

BikeDenver, Denver's bicycle advocacy non-profit organization, joins WalkDenver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks, and to establish a dedicated funding source (such as a property fee) for this purpose.

Good sidewalks are more than just routes from point A to point B; they allow people to observe daily life, experience their neighborhoods, and participate in their city. Sidewalks, as Jane Jacobs once reasoned, are a city's "most vital organs".

Dear Denver City Council Members,

The Bluebird Business Improvement District has recently completed a small area plan that revealed that pedestrian safety and comfort are stakeholder's primary concern along Colfax Ave. In support of our businesses, area residents, visitors and employees we would like to join this effort to improve pedestrian conditions and request that adequate funding be made available to realize safer and more comfortable sidewalks and intersections.

As Denver's population grows, the City must provide the basic infrastructure that allows people to safely and easily get around. Walkable neighborhoods with good sidewalks are the foundation of a complete transportation system that offers practical options including: transit, walking, biking, car share, ride share, bike share, and driving a personal vehicle. Good sidewalks are particularly important for area retail, our environment and district safety.

As you know, the City's current policy places responsibility on Denver property owners for building and maintaining sidewalks adjacent to their property. Sidewalk repairs can cost a property owner thousands of dollars. Lax enforcement of the current sidewalk policy means that many Denver neighborhoods have substandard or no sidewalks at all.

A fee of $5-$10 per month (for an average property) would provide a sustainable funding source for building new sidewalks, repairing old sidewalks, and upgrading substandard sidewalks throughout Denver.

The Bluebird Business Improvement District therefore joins with WalkDenver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks, and to establish a dedicated funding source (such as a property fee) for this purpose.

Dear Denver City Council Members,

Capitol Hill United Neighborhoods, Inc. (CHUN) is a registered neighborhood organization, which was formed in 1969 for the area of Denver bounded by Broadway, East First Avenue, Colorado Boulevard and East 22d Avenue. CHUN's mission is to preserve the past, improve the present and plan for the future of Greater Capitol Hill. CHUN has historically worked together with the City & the Department of Public Works on mobility and pedestrian safety issues around the Capitol Hill Neighborhood. The following motion was made at the regular October board of Delegates meeting:

CHUN should support WalkDenver in its efforts, requesting that the City & County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks, and to establish a dedicated funding source (such as a property fee) for this purpose.

Background : As Denver's population grows, the City must provide the basic infrastructure that allows people to safely and easily get around. Walkable neighborhoods with good sidewalks are the foundation of a complete transportation system that offers practical options including: transit, walking, biking, car share, ride share, bike share, and driving a personal vehicle. We are all pedestrians: It's how we start and end our day whether we take the bus, light rail or drive. Ensuring that every neighborhood has this most basic, fundamental infrastructure is essential for not only making Denver more walkable, but also a truly great city.

The motion passed with 14 in Favor, 3 opposed and 1 abstention

Dear Ms Locantore,

One of the most important functions of the City of Denver is to provide and maintain the basic infrastructure which allows people to safely get around our city. Good sidewalks are the key ingredient of walkable neighborhoods as well as the foundation of a complete transportation system with multiple, practical options. Good sidewalks are particularly important for the one-third of the population who don't drive.

The City has chosen to limit enforcement of current policy under which individual property owners are responsible to build and maintain sidewalks adjacent to their property. Because of the redevelopment of our neighborhood following construction of the Cherry Creek Mall, we have a mixture of sidewalks in various states of repair including Hollywood-style sidewalks which cannot accommodate the walkers of our significant population of senior citizens. And that lack of enforcement also means the embarrassment of the poor walking access to the West side of Colorado Boulevard.

A fee of $5-$10 per month (for the average property) would provide a sustainable funding source for building, repairing and upgrading sidewalks throughout Denver.

Cherry Creek East Association therefore joins with WalkDenver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks through a dedicated funding source such as a property fee.

We are all pedestrians: We start and end our day walking regardless of our chosen mode of transportation. Sidewalks promote walking and are the fundamental infrastructure essential for making Denver a truly great city.

Sincerely;
Susan Smernoff, President
Cherry Creek East Association

Dear Denver City Council Members,

Civic Results is a Colorado nonprofit specializing in community engagement and public policy initiatives in Colorado and around the country. Much of our work has focused on the fundamental issue of mobility for everyone. More people are choosing to walk for short trips. Fewer people own cars. More and more of our residents, young and old, are opting for more choice and flexibility in how they get around in their daily lives. This is perhaps more true in Denver than in many comparable cities and yet Denver is not a leader in walkability. Denver's WalkScore of 55.7 is only 37th out of 141 cities in the US and Canada with populations over 200,000 (compiled by WalkScore.com). We can do better.

As a growing city with an aging population, Denver needs to ensure that basic infrastructure is in place to allow all of our residents who choose to walk to their destinations, to do so safely and easily. The demands for walkable neighborhoods as a key element in our transportation network, ring throughout the City. Good and safe sidewalks are particularly important for a growing number of people that don't drive but go places.

Denver's sidewalk policy, placing responsibility to build and maintain sidewalks on property owners, has not worked. The policy is spottily enforced and the city has many neighborhoods and streets without sidewalks or with sidewalks in deplorable condition. Sidewalk construction and maintenance is an expensive activity, likely beyond the reasonable means of many people in in the City that don't currently have sidewalks. A small monthly property fee could provide Denver with a sustainable funding source for building new sidewalks, repairing old sidewalks, and upgrading substandard sidewalks wherever needed in the City.

Civic Results is pleased to join with Walk Denver and many other great partners asking you to support shifting the responsibility from property owners to the City and County, and developing a dedicated funding source (such as a property fee) for this purpose.

As Walk Denver reminds us, we are all pedestrians: It's how we start and end our day whether we take the bus, light rail or drive. Denver and Denverites deserve sidewalks.

Sincerely,
CIVIC RESULTS

Curtis Park Neighbors Supports WalkDenver's Call for City-run Sidewalk Installation and Maintenance

Curtis Park Neighbors, a Denver Registered Neighborhood Organization in one of Denver's oldest neighborhoods, supports WalkDenver's call for the City of Denver to take responsibility for sidewalk installation and maintenance, supported by a new source of dedicated funding.

Our support for this approach is with the expectation and understanding that in historic areas defined with neighborhood input, flagstone sidewalk can be the standard. It is of great importance to us that this historic asset and character-defining feature be maintained and continued. Year-by-year, we lose more of our flagstone, eroding the context of our neighborhood. Flagstone is a very "green" sidewalk material, as uneven sections can be picked up and re-leveled without replacement. Yet, individual homeowners find it very difficult to find contractors willing to do small jobs with flagstone at reasonable prices. With the city's bulk contracting ability, we can finally have repairs and installation of missing sections to preserve this important part of our the character of our earliest neighborhoods, which even Denver Landmark designation does not protect.

We are encouraged that City Council is examining this issue, after many years of plan recommendations pointing in this direction. The property-by-property complaint-driven failed approach that has given us the patchwork of missing, broken, and substandard pedestrian infrastructure we have today can only be remedied with a far more efficient and effective city-wide approach.

Please let us know how we can lend our enthusiastic support to evaluating and refining proposals for city-run installation and maintenance programs. By unanimous vote of the Curtis Park Neighbors Board of Directors,

City Council Members
City and County of Denver

Dear Council Members,

I am writing seeking your support for a plan initiated by Walk Denver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks city-wide, and to establish a dedicated funding source (such as a property fee) for this purpose.

Our East Colfax/East Montclair neighborhood was built-out primarily in the 1940's, when not building sidewalks or installing small inadequate 30" sidewalks were the norm. Because of the lack of sidewalks residents in our neighborhood must walk down the middle of the street to gain access to public transportation, shopping and dining on our main street of East Colfax Avenue.

We have several residents that use wheelchairs that have to use the street to get around the neighborhood because of the lack of sidewalk infrastructure. The city has recently added 'curb cuts' to the neighborhood and sidewalks are the next logical step. With sidewalk installation, residents will find it much easier to get around our community. I know that residents in other Denver neighborhoods would benefit from sidewalks as well, including children with bikes, families with small children in strollers, and other residents and visitors who use a wheelchair. For all these reasons and more, sidewalks would be very useful and increase the use of public transportation, and access to health and wellness through walkability.

As you know, the City's current policy places responsibility on Denver property owners for building and maintaining sidewalks adjacent to their property. Sidewalk repairs can cost a property owner thousands of dollars. Lax enforcement of the current sidewalk policy means that many Denver neighborhoods have substandard or no sidewalks at all.

A fee of $5-$10 per month (for an average property) would provide a sustainable funding source for building new sidewalks, repairing old sidewalks, and upgrading substandard sidewalks throughout Denver.

Therefore The East Montclair Neighborhood Association, its members and residents joins with Walk Denver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks, and to establish a dedicated funding source for this purpose.

We are all pedestrians: It's how we start and end our day whether we take the bus, light rail or drive. Ensuring that every neighborhood has this most basic, fundamental infrastructure is essential for not only making Denver more walkable, but also a truly great city.

Dear Denver City Council Members,

eGo CarShare applauds the high priority that city leaders have placed on creating a people-oriented city. We strongly believe a more walkable Denver will support a happier, healthier, and economically thriving future for its residents and businesses. As Denver's population grows, the City must provide the basic infrastructure that allows people to safely and easily get around.

84% of Denver eGo members walk to access our vehicles and we see walkable neighborhoods with good sidewalks as the foundation of a complete transportation system. Access to transit, biking, carshare, rideshare, bikeshare, and driving a personal vehicle all begin with good sidewalk infrastructure. Existing transit infrastructure relies on good walking access.

As you know, the City's current policy places responsibility on Denver property owners for building and maintaining sidewalks adjacent to their property. Sidewalk repairs can cost a property owner thousands of dollars. Lax enforcement of the current sidewalk policy means that many Denver neighborhoods have substandard or no sidewalks at all.

A nominal fee of $5-$10 per month (for an average property) would provide a sustainable funding source for building new sidewalks, repairing old sidewalks, and upgrading substandard sidewalks throughout Denver without requiring prohibitively expensive funding from property owners.

eGo CarShare therefore joins with WalkDenver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks, and to establish a dedicated funding source (such as a property fee) for this purpose.

We are all pedestrians: It's how we start and end our day whether we take the bus, walk to a carshare vehicle, or drive a personal vehicle and walk from a parking spot. Ensuring that every neighborhood has this most basic, fundamental infrastructure is essential for not only making Denver more walkable, but also a truly great city.

Dear Denver City Council Members:

As Denver's population grows, the City must provide the basic infrastructure that allows people to safely and easily get around. Walkable neighborhoods with good sidewalks are the foundation of a complete transportation system that offers practical options including: transit, walking, biking, car share, ride share, bike share, and driving a personal vehicle. Good sidewalks are particularly important for the one-third of the population that does not drive due to age, disability, or income.

As you know, the City's current policy places responsibility on Denver property owners for building and maintaining sidewalks adjacent to their property. Sidewalk repairs can cost a property owner thousands of dollars. Inconsistent enforcement of the current sidewalk policy means that many Denver neighborhoods have substandard or no sidewalks at all.

A fee of $5-$10 per month (for an average property) would provide a sustainable funding source for building new sidewalks, repairing old sidewalks, and upgrading substandard sidewalks throughout Denver.

Greater Park Hill Community, Inc. ("GPHC") is a large neighborhood with diverse homes that were built in many different decades. Some streets have buckling sidewalks due to large trees, some have very narrow sidewalks, and some have no sidewalks at all. What we do have in common is pride in our neighborhood. GPHC borders extend to the city limit on the north, Colorado Boulevard on the west, Colfax Avenue on the south, and Quebec Street on the east (in some areas, as far east as Syracuse Street). Therefore, we join with WalkDenver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks, and to establish a dedicated funding source (such as a nominal property fee as noted above) for this purpose.

Since several Park Hill neighborhoods are plagued with annual flooding issues, information from the University of Colorado Community Engagement, Design & Resource Research Center for Park Hill, Denver Green Infrastructure Design: Analysis, Issues & Recommendations – Spring 2015 is included with this letter for consideration of sustainable, permeable and cost-effective sidewalks.

We are all pedestrians: It is how we start and end our day whether we take the bus, light rail or drive. Ensuring that every neighborhood has this most basic, fundamental infrastructure is essential for not only making Denver more walkable, but also a truly great city.

Dear Denver City Council Members,

As Denver's population grows, the City must provide the basic infrastructure that allows people to safely and easily get around. Walkable neighborhoods with good sidewalks are not only the foundation of a complete transportation system, but also an essential component of a healthy community. The existence of well-maintained sidewalks has a direct correlation to community health. A recent study published in the American Journal of Public Health found that residents are 65% more likely to walk in a neighborhood with well-maintained sidewalks. A separate study found that residents of neighborhoods with good walkability performed 35-45 more minutes of moderate to vigorous physical activity than those who lived in neighborhoods with low walkability. A well cared for sidewalk infrastructure increases active transit, resident safety, and provides a vital lifeline to public transit.

As you know, the City's current policy places responsibility on Denver property owners for building and maintaining sidewalks adjacent to their property. Sidewalk repairs can cost a property owner thousands of dollars. Lax enforcement of the current sidewalk policy means that many Denver neighborhoods have substandard or no sidewalks at all, which is detrimental to the health of the community.

A fee of $5-$10 per month (for an average property) would provide a sustainable funding source for building new sidewalks, repairing old sidewalks, and upgrading substandard sidewalks throughout Denver.

Healthier Colorado therefore joins with WalkDenver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks, and to establish a dedicated funding source (such as a property fee) for this purpose.

We are all pedestrians: It's how we start and end our day whether we take the bus, light rail or drive. Ensuring that every neighborhood has this most basic, fundamental infrastructure is essential for not only making Denver more walkable, but also a truly great city.

Sincerely,

Inter-Neighborhood Cooperation

November 12, 2015

Dear Members of Denver City Council,

Inter-Neighborhood Cooperation, Denver's association of Registered Neighborhood Organizations from neighborhoods throughout Denver, is celebrating its 40th Anniversary this year. Founded in 1975, INC's mission is to advocate for Denver citizens by bringing together, informing and empowering Denver neighborhood organizations to actively engage in addressing city issues.

INC is pleased to join with WalkDenver in advocating for the City to provide the basic pedestrian infrastructure required for people to safely and easily get around. As you know, the City's current policy places responsibility on Denver property owners for building and maintaining sidewalks adjacent to their property. Sidewalk repairs can cost a property owner thousands of dollars that they may need to suddenly come up with to pay for a contractor on a small project. This is not only a potentially impossible strain on family finances, it is also an inherently inefficient and wasteful approach to infrastructure maintenance.

INC's recently-adopted Transportation Platform includes specific points relevant to and aligned with WalkDenver's request:

- 4.1. The pedestrian network is fundamental to making all other modes of transportation possible, including transit and biking.
- 4.2. Denver should adopt measures to preserve and complete sidewalk networks, including flagstone sidewalks where that is part of the established character of an area.
- 4.3. Denver should replace the current city policy that makes individual homeowners responsible for the cost of installing or repairing walks with alternative sources of funding. Leverage the city's negotiating power to get the best value on sidewalk installation and maintenance.

We ask that you engage with neighborhoods and with WalkDenver as we work together towards these goals.

Respectfully,

Larry Ambrose
President, INC

As you know, the City's current policy places responsibility on Denver property owners for building and maintaining sidewalks adjacent to their property. Sidewalk repairs can cost a property owner thousands of dollars. As a result, low-income communities and communities of color face an undue burden. Sidewalk improvements disproportionately occur in communities with private development, and capital for sidewalk enhancements and maintenance. This inequitable standard leaves those who rely on this infrastructure the most; without options, or access to the investment in FasTracks and RTD bus service.

A fee of $5-$10 per month (for an average property) would provide a sustainable funding source for building new sidewalks, repairing old sidewalks, and upgrading substandard sidewalks throughout Denver.

Mile High Connects (MHC) recognizes the important role that sidewalks play in ensuring that the metro Denver regional transit system fosters communities that offer all residents the opportunity for a high quality of life. Therefore, MHC joins with WalkDenver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks, and to establish a dedicated funding source (such as a property fee) for this purpose.

SOUTHWEST ENERGY EFFICIENCY PROJECT

Saving Money and Protecting the Environment Through More Efficient Energy Use

October 23, 2015

On behalf of the Southwest Energy Efficiency Project, I am writing to support walk Denver's petition calling for a dedicated funding source for sidewalks.. Walking is the most fundamental form of transportation – every trip by any mode at least starts out as a walking trip.

As Denver's population grows, the City must provide the basic infrastructure that allows people to safely and easily get around. Walkable neighborhoods with good sidewalks are the foundation of a complete transportation system that offers practical options including transit, walking, biking, car share, ride share, bike share, and driving a personal vehicle.

This is particularly critical since Denver and RTD have invested so much in creating world class transit service – but in many areas the most basic bicycle and pedestrian infrastructure is lacking near transit stations. Without good first and final mile access, transit will not live up to its potential.

Currently Denver property owners are responsible for building and maintaining sidewalks adjacent to their property. It is very hard to understand why roads are treated as a community investment, paid for by our taxes, but sidewalks considered something less important, to be paid for just by adjacent property owners.

We encourage the city to create a sustainable funding mechanism to invest in good sidewalks throughout the community, and in first and final mile solutions that will maximize the value of our multi billion dollar transit investments.

One other note – we would encourage the City to approach CDOT about using toll revenues from the I-70 East expansion to invest in sidewalks and an improved bicycle and pedestrian environment as partial mitigation for the low income neighborhoods that will be most impacted by the expansion.

Sincerely,

Will Toor
Director, Transportation Program

Dear Denver City Council Members,

University Park Community Council (UPCC) joins with WalkDenver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks, and to establish a dedicated funding source (such as a property fee) for this purpose.

Our older, established neighborhood is in proximity to two light rail stations and the University of Denver, and contains a number of elementary schools, parks, and churches. Walkability to all these is limited by lack of sidewalks in critical areas.

Denver's current policy places responsibility on Denver property owners for building and maintaining sidewalks adjacent to their property. Sidewalk repairs can cost a property owner thousands of dollars. Lax enforcement of the current sidewalk policy means that University Park, and many Denver neighborhoods, have substandard or no sidewalks at all.

Dear Denver City Council Members,

The international Urban Land Institute, a 501-c-3 nonprofit membership organization devoted to best practices in land use, strongly supports compact, walkable communities as a key “best practice” to create thriving and healthy cities. Through ULI Colorado’s partnerships with Colorado Health Foundation, Denver Office of Economic Development, and other organizations, we work directly with communities from Loveland to Pueblo (and including Denver’s Chaffee Park, Elyria-Swansea, Federal Boulevard, Five Points, Globeville, West Colfax, and Westwood neighborhoods) to find ways to strengthen walkable, mixed-use neighborhoods.

Numerous studies establish the link between walkable urban environments and public health. Conversely, neighborhoods that are not walkable (especially if they are lower-income) have alarmingly higher rates of childhood obesity, heart disease and Type 2 diabetes.

As Denver’s population grows, the City must provide the basic infrastructure that allows people to safely and easily get around. Walkable neighborhoods with good sidewalks are the foundation of a complete transportation system that offers practical options including: transit, walking, biking, car share, ride share, bike share, and driving a personal vehicle. Good sidewalks are particularly important for the one-third of the population that doesn’t drive due to age, disability, or income. This basic infrastructure allows greater access to transit, with strong potential to reduce congestion, attract economic development, and to maximize our public investment in FasTracks.

While ULI does not lobby for specific legislation or candidates, we stand with organizations like Walk Denver in calling for a sustainable financial mechanism to fund new and improved sidewalks and street crossings throughout the city.

ULI Colorado has nearly 1,200 members in Colorado. Many are both leaders and experts in the planning, design, finance, development, and construction of walkable communities. Please let us know how we may assist in thinking about this as Denver grows into a larger, and more walkable, city.

Dear Denver City Council Members,

As the coordinator for the Denver-metro area's Walk with a Doc program, I get to see the true value in walking and pedestrian activities. Walking, as you may know, is nature's best medicine and has been shown to fight disease – everything from heart disease to cancer to dementia, and is fabulous for stress reduction and even smoking cessation. As such, every effort to improve the walkability of our great city deserves significant attention. Ultimately, the health of our citizens is truly our best asset and contributes to our combined citywide productivity.

As Denver's population grows, the City must provide the basic infrastructure that allows people to safely and easily get around. Walkable neighborhoods with good sidewalks are the foundation of a complete transportation system that offers practical options including: transit, walking, biking, car share, ride share, bike share, and driving a personal vehicle. Dear Denver City Council Members,

At West Colfax BID, we have been working over recent years to improve the pedestrian environment as an important economic development tool. As Denver's population and neighborhoods like West Colfax grows, we believe the City has a vital role to play in providing the infrastructure that allows people to safely and easily get around. Walkable commercial districts with good sidewalks are the foundation of a complete transportation system that supports economic development. Such a complete system includes transit, walking, biking, car share, ride share, bike share, and driving a personal vehicle. Good sidewalks are particularly important for the one-third of the population that doesn't drive due to age, disability, or income, many of whom call West Colfax home.

As you know, the City's current policy places responsibility on Denver property owners for building and maintaining sidewalks adjacent to their property. Sidewalk repairs can cost a property owner thousands of dollars. Lax enforcement of the current sidewalk policy means that many Denver neighborhoods have substandard or no sidewalks at all, which often constrains local economic development opportunities.

The West Colfax BID Board of Directors therefore voted unanimously on December 8, 2015, to join with our partner WalkDenver in calling upon the City and County of Denver to assume responsibility for building and repairing sidewalks, and to establish a dedicated funding source for this purpose. One potential source would be a modest fee to provide a sustainable funding source for building new sidewalks, repairing old sidewalks, and upgrading substandard sidewalks throughout Denver.

Ensuring that every neighborhood has this most basic, fundamental infrastructure is essential for not only making Denver more walkable, but also more economically thriving city. We therefore ask that you move forward to develop the framework and funding to achieve this important goal for Denver.

Sincerely,

Dan Shah
Executive Director

Zachary Owens	I want Denver to be the most walkable City in the Country!
Gosia Kung	Everybody is a pedestrian. We can choose to drive, bike, use transit, or other options - but walking is a part of our DNA. We all need safe and comfortable places to walk.
Daniela Borja	Lack of safe sidewalks with smooth consistent pavement and appropriate lighting is critical for all city residents, workers and visitors and a must have for people with disabilities
Joe McCullough	It is important to be able to safely get around the city on foot.
Ted Wenzlick	Sidewalks benefit everyone and serve as a critical part of a great transportation system!
Heather Moritz	I'm signing because I don't own a car and rely entirely on a safe and accessible walkable environment with good connections to public transport. Denver's sidewalks need lots of improvements so I support a sustainable funding source for building new sidewalks and repairing/upgrading old ones.
Jenny Niemann	Everyone in Denver deserves sidewalks! Our most vulnerable populations have the worst walking infrastructure - and the City should fix this.
Michael Sagar	Sidewalks are an important pedestrian amenity that is all too often forgotten in many places throughout the City and County of Denver. Unfortunately, a lot of the public doesn't realize that property owners are responsible for maintaining sidewalks, and those that are aware may not have the funds available to take control. Therefore, it would be best for the city to collectively manage the sidewalks and squash the confusion once and for all.
Jessie Hawthorn	I walk the streets all the time and there are many areas with no sidewalks and unsafe sidewalks. I'm in 80205.
Brooks Waldman	I would like to see better connectivity and pedestrian accessibility and safety throughout Denver.
leslii Lewis	Im signing because my neighborhood needs new/updated side walks for families to accommodate baby strollers, wheelchairs, walkers, etc Especially for those neighborhoods that are RTD routes---- those streets need to be well lit as well!
Jody McGuirk	I'm signing because I live in a neighborhood that has poor or none-existing sidewalks.
Bruce Baskette	I'm signing because my area has some sidewalk needs in places where there aren't obvious "property owners".

Amy Mason	I live on a corner lot and our sidewalks need repair. I don't know how we will afford it and I feel bad. I don't know anyone in other towns that has this burden. Several houses where we live have bad sidewalks. I am afraid for my kids to bike and run on them for fear they will trip. It is a major problem in Denver.
Jenny Frank	Sidewalks are good for property values, civic comfort, citizen safety, all around neighborhood quality.
Steve Holz-Russell	I used to live in North City Park in Denver, and one of the reasons I left that neighborhood was because there were not adequate sidewalks.
Karen Derrick-Davis	We must be able to walk safely in our neighborhoods.
Jamie Perkins	It's difficult to walk in my neighborhood and my neighbors aren't going to be able to fix that!
brooke zheng	I'm signing the petition because Denver does deserve sidewalks and I am a fan of walking.
Patrick Cherry	I'm signing because there are too many places in Denver, even central Denver, where insufficient sidewalks or total lack of sidewalks makes me feel unsafe and unwelcome as a pedestrian.
Liz Thomas	I walk all over Denver and too often have felt unsafe walking in areas without sidewalks.
Jen Garner	I want all residents to be able to safely walk in our city. When I see people in wheelchairs have to use the street because of sidewalk disrepair or a lack of sidewalks, I am ashamed of Denver. As a homeowner, I worry about how I will pay to replace my sidewalk. I would gladly pay a monthly fee to reduce the risk of having to pay thousands of dollars at once to replace my sidewalk.
Heather Eackles	I live in Clayton, and I find it horrible that our sidewalks are a complete mish-mash - I have seen people in wheelchairs ride down the middle of the street - this needs to be remedied! The city should be in charge of sidewalks - not put in the hands of poor, working families.
Ariella Murdock	There are not enough sidewalks in my neighborhood (Clayton)
Mark Ungar	I like to walk and feel safe when doing so.
Alessandro Rigolon	I live in Cole and sideways are a complete mess. Children try to bike and skate on them because streets are unsafe, but they often fall. Also, the RiNo area completely lacks sidewalks in many of its blocks. Lots of people are attracted to the area for its bars and restaurants but not having a sidewalk makes the area extremely unsafe to walk.
Emily Caldwell	I'm tired of having to walk my dog in the middle of the street! It's time for sidewalks that are actually wide enough to walk on!

Fredrick Watkins	Sidewalks shouldn't be dependent on a property owner's ability to afford them.
Stephanie Gustafson	I'm signing because ALL of Denver needs access to sidewalks. One of the major draws for me to move to Denver was how walkable it was. Then a bought a home in Clayton -- Denver no longer felt walkable and I hardly ever walk anywhere because I don't feel safe. It is especially unsafe for children, seniors, and people with disabilities. I've seen someone in a wheelchair -- in the middle of the street -- because she had no where else to go safely. I would love to see people this part of Denver walk more, but we need sidewalks to encourage it especially before the commuter rail is complete.
Sam Cooke	I like walking safely!
Lynne Brown	I believe that walking is an basic mode of transportation, provides many health benefits, and pure pleasure. Having well maintained sidewalks is essential infrastructure and benefits all--children to adults. It is an integral part of becoming a great city!
Thomas Hart	We need safe, well maintained sidewalks in Congress Park.
Gamaliel Whitney	I am signing this petition because there are too many areas where sidewalks were not built and were not enforced by the City when new homes went in. Currently we have to walk in the street with our 6 mo old son in inclement weather which is a huge safety issue.
Rose Castaneda	Want to be a great city, be one.
Lisa Diaz	sidewalks benefit everyone environmentally, and economically, while improving public health.
Will Holden	I'm a Denver native and new to the Skyland neighborhood. Frankly, I'm a tad disappointed to find out sidewalks don't appear to be a priority in this part of our a great city -- a city that spends a great deal of time, energy and money promoting and supporting the outdoors and healthy lifestyles, no less.
Dan Shah	Sidewalks and pedestrian infrastructure are sorely lacking in Denver, particularly on major arterials like Colfax.
Catherine Greeley	I want my son to be able to get to on from school on a sidewalk.
Michelle Reichmuth	I love walking
Susan Shepherd	This was one of my highest priorities while serving on Council, and I constantly heard from constituents throughout the whole city that it was a very high priority for them as well. Denver city leaders, please prioritize funding & resources to create a funded sidewalk program in Denver. Everyone is a pedestrian at some point during the day. Many people aren't drivers. Our policies should reflect more equity.

Pete Gingrass	This is a critical piece of infrastructure that communities need to grow and thrive.
Kristi Hamilton	One of my greatest frustrations with my neighborhood is its lack of decent (and continuous) sidewalks. Too many curb ramps in the area have absolutely no connection to an established walking route.
Br, David Garner, O.S.B.	As an Elder I face these challenges every day.
christo9pher bauman	For the safety of those walking and waiting for public transportation. It is a dangerous situation for drivers where people are forced to walk along the side of the road. The condition of many of our streets it is very poor making it extremely dangerous for drivers to avoid pedestrians walking on the side of the street.
Jackson Turnacliff	There are many blocks in Park Hill with no sidewalks and this affects me.
Tracy Kaye	I want Denver to be pedestrian friendly!
Jessica Caouette	My neighborhood (Clayton) is lacking severely in sidewalks! If I want to take a walk I have to spend the majority of it in the street.
Page Shaver	I just moved here from New York City, and am dismayed that my neighborhood places, all a reasonable walking distance, require that I drive because there is no easy, safe way to walk. No sidewalks also contribute to pedestrian-involved hit-and-run accidents, of which I understand Denver has quite a few.
Lizabeth Netzel	I live in University Park north of Evans, where many streets are sans sidewalks and students, dog-walkers and residents take their lives in their hands every day by walking in the street. This is a GREAT idea.
Andrew Mullins	I'm signing because I run all of the time and often times I end up running on the street in the Park Hill neighborhood because there are no sidewalks!
Beau Lebens	We are a single-car household, and so I rely on bicycle and walking to get around. It makes life dangerous and more difficult when there are no sidewalks. If Denver wants to be a forward-thinking city, and continue to attract people to it, sidewalks are a piece of that puzzle.
Jesse Goldsmith	My neighbor hood has roll over curbs and narrow sidewalks that dont allow for two people to walk side by side.
Bill Winn	We are residents of University Park and sidewalks are a wonderful amenity. Additionally there are 2 elementary schools, a college Univ. of Denver) and 2 light rail stations within walking distance. Not all routes to the schools, light rail, and merchants have routes that include sidewalks.

Amelia Yaron	I run and walk our dogs, a lot, and it is so sad that our city isn't set up for people to be healthy. It would be great to have sidewalks that allow two people to walk side by side, but at a minimum a good sidewalk with the ability to roll a pram or wheelchair safely over the curb city-wide.
Juan Pena	We need side walks in the Clayton neighborhood.
Sarah Davis	I'm signing because something needs to be done in Denver to increase walkability and safety in our neighborhoods! The sidewalks are too narrow and as a result people have to walk in the streets between parked cars and moving traffic, especially if you have a stroller, are walking your dogs, are in a wheelchair/on crutches/have a walker, etc. Let's ensure our transportation system is complete and safe no matter what mode!
Jennie Merrigan	You try and push a stroller in North Denver. You'll end up in the street where you put your baby and yourself in danger.
Carrie Blair	It is unsafe to have streets without sidewalks, especially with the growing population and demand for using published transportation.
chris englert	I want to see a better connector between Northfield Mall and Quebec Square. It's criminal to have people walk along Quebec under I70.
Terran Watkins	I ride the buses here and it sucks when there are no sidewalks. Places a little fear in a walkers heart of cars from behind not having a barrier. We all know how terrible people drive here!
Sabira Stash	I want sidewalks in my neighborhood!
Paul Davidson	Great sidewalks promote more walking, local business, and most importantly, improve the safety of pedestrians. To be honest, I can't believe we even have to ask for this!
Danielle Short	It's hard to get motivated to walk for exercise in my neighborhood because the sidewalks are so narrow.
Tom Fesing	Walkability is important to a community for their health, well-being, safety and to ensure it prosperous local business community
Mark Pfeifer	Walk ability and bike ability are crucial to the future of smart growth cities.
Kaylyn BOpp	The lack of sidewalks in Denver is a safety concern for motorists and pedestrians.
Melody Hodges	My neighborhood isn't walkable. The few sidewalks we have are little more than expanded curbs and too close to the street to be safe for pedestrians. We are forced to walk in the street instead. Not safe!
Sharon Gonzales	This is a safety issue.
Elisabeth Pinsonneault	My neighborhood should be walkable- there are great parks and places to go nearby- but the lack of sidewalks severely limits pedestrian options

Jason Woodman	While a limited number of the old flagstone sidewalks in my hood add character, most are so displaced to be impassable with a stroller. Many concrete sidewalks are in major I'll repair. As a commuter who often walks, I would appreciate this measure greatly!
Peter Stoltzman	I agree. I have had to walk on the street with my 7 and 4 yr old boys just to get to the store four blocks away. It's extremely dangerous, and a ludicrous remnant of systemic racism that has left urban neighborhoods without basic needs like this. Come on, Denver! You're paving our neighborhood as I write this. You can put in some friggin sidewalks.
Jessica Allen	Sidewalks will help keep my kids safe from traffic when we walk our dogs.
Chad Menard	I want a safe place to walk with my dogs and son.
Sara Overby	We need sidewalks for pedestrian safety and alternative transit infrastructure.
Amy Rohrer	Walking is my life and my livelihood.
Ashleigh Weatherill	It's incomprehensible that areas less than 2 miles from city center do not have the safety of a sidewalk.
Brett Suydam	I share one car with my wife, we walk many places, and are constantly having to walk in the street on roads that no one obeys the speed limits on, anymore. It makes everyday a dice game with my life because of the lack of adequate sidewalks, and driving laws enforcement.
Peter Bird	The ability to walk safely is the most important aspect of transportation. Everything else should take a backseat to that.
JESSI HEIER	I hate walking on the street or through resident's yards!!!! It is dangerous on the street and the likelihood of walking through dog poo is high. I see families pushing strollers and children riding their bikes in the street due to lack of safety.
Sloan campi	The City should build the sidewalks for the people.
Kimberly Bird	I don't have a car and depend on sidewalks! Walking to buses isn't safe in many areas.
Barbara Masoner	Walking is good for you, reduces street congestion, allows walkers to connect with neighbors and improves our moods. So why not make our city more pedestrian friendly? The up front cost will quickly be paid back by the numerous benefits to our community.
Rachel Hultin	Good sidewalks provide safe travel for people of all ages and abilities. They connect kids with schools. Seniors with services. Communities with one another. It's a small investment in personal, public and communal health for all.
Jonathon Stalls	This is such a critically important step in helping to make Denver (and Colorado) healthier, more connected, and inclusive to transportation needs for all.

David York	For better health, safety, & encouraging green behavior!
Megan Deffner	Because walkability is important to the success of any community.
Zamora Dora	Revenue from marijuana sales can pay for repair and/or replacement of sidewalks in the City. No new taxes.
Andy kay	Its the right thing to do
Nathan Moore	Agree w goal and making Denver a lot more walkable.
Cari Ross	I live in an older area of University Park that does not have sidewalks on some blocks, or not every home or apartment building has a sidewalk. Winter is coming, and walking in the snowy lawns or on the slick arched streets are not good alternatives.
I visited Denver early this year and many of the sidewalks are problematic.
Danielle Ongart	I walk places!
Kim Smed	We need to be able to walk or safely bicycle anywhere in the city and the lack of even a sidewalk let alone a bike path in especially RiNo areas is pretty ridiculous.
Suzanne Koehler	My neighborhood only has a few sidewalks, and it's super dangerous for kids.
Colleen Bryan	Walking (safely) should be basic.
Erin Eggland	I have 1/2 of a sidewalk on my property...? Why? Denver and it's pedestrians deserve a safe place to walk.
Frank Locantore	I'm signing because even though I'm pretty physically fit and agile, I trip constantly on uneven sidewalks in Denver. My mother-in-law is not in the same shape as I am and she's limited in her ability to walk far for fear of falling. And, she won't walk at night because it is harder to see uneven sidewalks.
Lynn Otto	Sidewalks in my neighborhood are harzardous. So uneven and unsafe.
Margaret Parish	Streets without sidewalks (or with tiny Hollywood curbs) are dangerous, discourage walking, and are discriminatory against the elderly, the disabled, and those with small children.
Rosemary Stoffel	I am a resident of University Park, which is in proximity to 2 light rail stations. However, walking to them can be a challenge due to lack of sidewalks in portions of the neighborhood. I believe we would have a tighter and more "neighborly" community with the completion of additional sidewalks. It is unreasonable to expect homeowners to foot the bill, and we've advocated for years about the city creating a dedicated funding stream.
Catherine Marinelli	A community is safer and more active with sidewalks.
Tera Gall	sidewalks = community

Anthony Avery	While many of the affluent communities in Denver have adequate sidewalks, our disadvantaged citizens are often unable to bear the burden placed upon them to provide their own basic infrastructure. Walking is a basic mode of transportation that must be available and safe for all!
Nicole Schowalter	We need to extend the sidewalks in Park Hill into North Park Hill.
Phyllis Ward	It's important!
Stephen Moore	Because I would like to see my city flourish. Not only for those wealthy individuals moving here, but especially for those who are the backbone of this region. Low income people and people of color are disproportionately effected by this issue and I know that the citizens of Denver deserve more and are willing to pay to see this problem resolved.
Jennifer Samuels	I love walking around Stapleton, but can't venture forth because there's no safe space to walk in Park Hill.
Alissa Klinger	I am signing this because it is important that parents are able to take their kids on walks and not have to be in the street, so that kids, elderly people and disabled people also have safe walkways. Many streets in the area around where I live on 17 th street, montview and others have no sidewalk. We have ended up walking in traffic with our kids because people also don't want is on their lawn or there is no spot on their grass to walk because of plants or a fence. It is frustrating. I cannot imagine being blind or in a wheel chair, or a child trying to get to school alone. It is also so strange that the city is putting in new roads and corner curbs ( which are great) but yet there is no sidewalk connected to the corner curb. How is that useful for a wheelchair bound person or a mom pushing little kids around.
Wendy Cole	I am shocked at how many residential streets have no sidewalks, extremely narrow ones, or obstructed ones, especially in places where children often use that route to walk to school and are forced to cross the street multiple times in order to reach a sidewalk. Walking with strollers can be equally difficult. As a home owner, I also feel having full responsibility over a sidewalk that many people use is an overwhelming burden that can be alleviated with this proposal.
Danielle Gooden	There are a lot of kids in our neighborhood and sidewalks will keep them safe with scooters, bikes and walking to school.
Debbie Fimple	I'm signing because I want more sidewalks in my neighborhood (Cory Merrill) so I can safely walk with my kids and dog.
Tiffany OConnell	Make this city safe for all forms of transportation!!
Chris Frampton	A place you can walk and bike is so awesome!

Amy Walde	I run with two kids and a dog. I need sidewalk to be safe!
Marvin Dworkin	It would eliminate the delays caused by the permit process and would keep all sidewalks in a much better situation.
Justine Solot	I'm signing because I want my children to be able to safely walk and bike to school.
Eric Nguyen	Everyone uses sidewalks. Even when I drive somewhere, I still need to walk from my car to the place I'm going.
Bob Colliver	Great idea, although it's a pipe dream in Denver. If it looks like a tax people here won't support it.
Cathy Bird	I am signing because sidewalk infrastructure is at the core of Denver's mobility problems. Funding a sustainable solution to missing or poorly kept sidewalks helps our city demonstrate its commitment to mobility. Once we can walk/wheelchair from our homes to transit, we are free to choose. Choice should not be a luxury.
Alyson Honer	I want to be able to walk my daughter in a safe place.
Peter Kenney	A world class city has sidewalks for everyone.
Scott Gruber	I'm signing for the safety of our children.
André van Hall	I am blind and the appalling condition of our sidewalks makes it a hazard for me to walk.
Nick Stevens	A walkable city provides higher quality of life and safety for its residents.
David Vititoe	It is safe for the public.
NANCY STOCKER	But not just any sidewalk will do. One wide enough for 2 or more walkers is important. And it's best to have it several feet from the curb.
Jennifer Boone	Please! Let's make it possible to walk anywhere in our beautiful city.
Meagen Svendsen	My son and I walk to school every day along the stretch between Tennyson and Lowell of 26th avenue without sidewalks. There is no safe stretch for children to walk home along. I think of all the children who don't have the option to walk home from school with parents and who don't have a safe option.
Jill Haver	E. 23rd Ave just west of Monaco needs sidewalks, as do several other places I know in Denver.
Ryan Schultz	As a multi-modal transit user, I rely on sidewalks to get between point A & B. Walkable sidewalks and other pedestrian/bike friendly infrastructure are just as much a safety issue as they are a community issue.
Samuel Devorris	I like to walk and bike - and we need sidewalks in order to do that....
Andrea Ollom	We deserve to have sidewalks!
LISA REYNOLDS	Sidewalks help people walk safely around Denver!
Nicoleta Nagel	Duh.

Lauretta Pru	I want sidewalks on both sides of 52nd
Carolyn Tyler	It's a safety issue.
Sonia Gonzalez-Ortega	I can't even wank on a sidewalk holding my toddlers hand - we don't fit!!!! Walking is dangerous!
Jennifer Taylor	The sidewalks in my neighborhood are so narrow that I can not walk side by side with my young son. When I used a stroller, I had to push it in the street.
Sarah Rasay	I'm signing because I would like to be able to safely walk with my son in our neighborhood.
Marjorie De Rose	I would like Denver to be a walker-friendly city.
Erin Comstock	I'm signing because crossing Sheridan from 49th over to the Tennyson side is suicidal! Especially with a baby or child!!! There should be proper side walks with that freeway right there. Please listen to the people!
Jessica Jordan	I take my 4 month old daughter on stroller walks around my neighborhood in park hill, and it is not safe to walk on the street. I also have 2 dogs that I walk and would feel much safer walking on the sidewalk.
Hannah Montroy	I can't walk side by side with my kids on the sidewalk or hold their hand and walk with them without me walking on the street and then on the sidewalk, and then we have to go single file to walk around cars parked. We need sidewalks!
Rebecca Colbert	Our family deserves sidewalks!
Jessica Hillman	I want safe sidewalks for my kids.
Rachel Graves	If Denver wants to be a truly cosmopolitan city, it needs sidewalks--and walk lights at intersections--to be a truly walkable city.
Jennifer VanBerschot	I'm signing because I want our children to be able to safely ride their bikes in our Highlands neighborhood.
Erin Norton	It's dangerous to make me push my stroller on the street. The sidewalks in my neighborhood are horrendous. Not a single block with without major cracks. And most blocks have a curb at corners it's awful.

Camille Roth	I lived in 80211 for 18 years. The infrastructure of the historic / older districts held great appeal to me, because of the wide sidewalks and easements between the street and pedestrians. I am now a resident in 80210, and it is difficult and unsafe to walk my dogs on narrow curb and gutter sidewalks along busy streets with untended vegetation and trees overhanging the sidewalks that force me and my dogs into the street.
Erica Carlson	I'm signing because I am a concerned mother of 2 who walks through alleys to avoid busy streets without sidewalks to get to school every day.
Jenny boland	I am tired of tripping on un even sidewalks.
Todd Hopkins	Denver needs this!
Shelby Miller	I love walking in Denver and some neighborhoods have streets without sidewalks and some have sidewalks that are in pretty bad shape. We need uniform, handicap accessible sidewalks in all parts of Denver!
Tina Talmadge	I have walked this path many of times and it is not safe. Sidewalks are a must!
Heather Truhan	Sidewalks help connect neighborhoods and make it safer for kids.
Erin Heltshe	our sidewalks are dangerous! Our kids have trouble riding scooters, bikes on them without hitting cracks and elevated surfaces resulting in many skinned knees. And pushing a stroller on sidewalks is near impossible. Unfortunately we have taken to riding, scootering and walking in the street which is just more dangerous.
Gabrielle Voeller	sidewalks are important for people to be able to walk around safely
Leah Elsmore	i believe a walkable environment will improve the overall health of Denver
Michael Bannister	I live in Golden but work on Colorado Blvd in Denver. I bike to work 1-3 days a week and side walks and bike paths are very important for the safety of pedestrians and bikes. The safety of those in cars is also increased by keeping pedestrians off roads. This also increases the efficiency of traffic.
Marcia Davenport	Enjoy walking in neighborhoods but sidewalks are terrible and often have to walk in the street.
Beth Hidalgo	sidewalks are terrible for handicapped, people with children, and anyone trying to use sidewalks during exercise
Chelsea Thom	We Need new sidewalks and good sidewalks
Ian Peters	The lack of sidewalks in both poor and rich neighborhoods makes it hard to walk around.

Patricia Johnson	I'm signing because I have a child and two dogs. We walk every day. All streets need a safe area for walking. This is such a small thing for a city to do for its citizens, especially for child safety. No brainer!
Sunanda Babu	Sidewalks making walking safe. On Montview Blvd, the sidewalk ends suddenly requiring a change in route or unsafe walking.
Karla Lauo	We need sidewalks.. Wide sidewalks mothers with there strollers can't fit on sidewalks and have to walk in the streets. Not safe.
Kristin Beil	Some of the sidewalks are fall hazards for the people who use them. We should make them safe for all the people in the neighborhood.
Liz Marsh	I am fortunate not to be handicapped, and at this time I don't have small children, but I'm sick of walking my dog in the street because the sidewalks are tiny and poorly maintained.
Katie Galanaugh	I'm signing this because me and my 14 month old daughter love to go for walks. However, sometimes there aren't sidewalks and if there are, they are too small for my stroller. So, we end up in the street which is not safe!
Sheila Lynch	Safe places to walk are critical to the quality of life of all Denver residents. Sidewalks are the missing link in making this happen in all Denver neighborhoods!
Beth Newcomb	I've been forced to walk in the street in our nearby neighborhoods and noticed school children forced to do the same.
Heather Rost	I am signing this because the lack of sidewalks makes it very unsafe for my kids to walk to school.
Samantha Powell	I want my kids to walk to school!
Sundari Kraft	Walkability is a key component of a vibrant, sustainable, healthy community!
steve harley	sidewalks should be a higher priority in our transportation system  current way repairs are handled is haphazard by design (complaint based, for one thing) and often unfair to neighborhoods and property owners

Brittney Frye	I live in a neighborhood that sidewalks are only available on new builds. I have young children and worry about their safety when riding bikes, scooting or walking.
Christine Talley	Walkability (safety, sustainability, connectedness, support of local commerce) is key to a progressive, modern city. It's ridiculous that people have to walk in the street because the sidewalk infrastructure is outdated.
Mary Carlson	It is imperative that the city help the homeowner with these costs. The city infrastructure is crumbling and we can't do it alone.
J Cotter	I would like to support Denver pedestrians and help the East Colfax area grow jesica davis	I just bought a house and now I have to pay thousands of dollars to fix a sidewalk. The city owns the sidewalk, this is ridiculous.
Linda Brunn	Sidewalks along major streets are entirely missing in parts of North West Denver. The worst place I can think of is the east side of Sheridan Blvd. from Colfax to 17th Avenue. It is not the best way to say "Welcome to Denver and Sloan's Lake Park".
mary shaver	With more and more people taking light rail, they need a safe place to walk.
Amina Adnan	I live across from a light rail station in West Colfax. The sidewalks in the neighborhood are either non-existent or sub-par with many sidewalks being ~2' wide or with no tree lawn to separate from heavy traffic. In areas of a narrow sidewalk or no sidewalk I am forced to walk in the middle of the street which feels very unsafe.
Nathan Wallingford	Walking is a fundamental human right. Driving a car is not.
John Berg	I agree!
Katie Wegner	I recently moved to the neighborhood and before we were able to get homeowners insurance we were told we needed to upgrade our sidewalk. After experiencing the financial burden of doing so, I definitely understand why some people may not upgrade their sidewalk even if they wanted to. Having a safe place to walk is crucial to developing a safe, healthy community!
John Hannah	Some areas of sidewalk in our neighborhood have crumbled away and / or have significant lifting of slabs, both of which are safety hazards. Repair is dearly needed!
Renee Renteria-Gru	This is a need
Cyndi Fox	Our sidewalks are a complete mess and pose a hazard to all.

Thomas Topero	I walk many places and desire to have and provide safe places to walk and socialize that is separate from auto and bike traffic. It is a public service that is needed everywhere, not just those where it's desired.
Cheryl Spector	New and repaired sidewalks should be natural, durable materials (flagstone) or permeable pavers / materials.
Mark Locy	Sidewalks should not be left to individuals to maintain.
Ken Schroepfel	We don't leave it up to homeowners to maintain the street in front of their house. Why should sidewalks be any different? Walking is the original, and most important form of transportation. Let's treat it as such, City of Denver!
Ray Ehrenstein	This is a cost that is accepted by cities nationwide and is certainly applicable to Denver.
Juan Madrid	I'm signing because I believe this needs to change!
Nelson Annie	I'm signing because plenty of people have wheel chairs and they safely want to get around without getting hit by a car while riding in the street
Chris Powell	I live in Corey Merrill and our sidewalks are on many street(or in front of many houses) non existent. Our kids are having to walk into street, around cars and can't safely get to school. I have personally witnessed many very close calls with our kiddos and something needs to be done.
John Wilker	Because I've lost count of the times I've almost been hit walking around my neighborhood
Ursula Brunner	I'm signing because A) we all need and enjoy to walk B) we want a friendly and engaging neighborhood that is safe C) I plan on relocating to Denver and coming from NY I see the massive changes this city has gone through. If NY can do it, Denver can do it
Carla McConnell	I support public funding of sidewalks, particularly detached sidewalks, with priority given to transportation routes.
Ian Brown	I cant walk to the corner at night without tripping on the sidewalk that is worn and not level.
Aiden Patterson	Everyone needs a safe place to walk!
Roanna Ayers	It is safer and easier for me to push my son down the street in the stroller than it is to use the sidewalk. Our neighborhood needs wider sidewalks with ramps in and out of alleyways. Thank you for your consideration to this matter.

Jodie Putrino	We need sidewalks! I don't want to have to walk in the street to take my daughter to the park/playground a few blocks from my house.
Daniel Putrino	I have a young daughter and I'm not comfortable with the idea that she has to walk in the street due to a lack of sidewalks.
Linda Callahan	Bryant Street and W. 55th Avenue need sidewalks!
Neva Blubaugh	The stretch of 46th Ave. between Shoshone and Pecos NEEDS a sidewalk...there are many seniors living in the senior apartments that are in wheelchairs, walkers, using canes etc. that find it very difficult to navigate the treacherous sides of the street when walking to Sav-A-Lot to do their shopping! Many of these seniors do not have cars to get there. This is especially bad in the winter when wet and frozen slush accumulate along the sides of the street. This is a real safety concern!!!!
Alice Kelly	It is a safety issue.
Justin Thornton	Poor neighborhoods need side walks to so people have a safe place to walk.
joan bondy	Safe pedestrian access should be a paramount priority in any community.
William Bright	Sidewalks are an important aspect of all neighborhoods.
Michele Fuerst	Current system is inefficient and unfair
richard berk	I am signing because I am a denver pedestrian.
Burke Miles	i think the health and safety of Denver is impacted by sidewalk quality.
Alissa Stevens	We didn't buy a house in Park Hill because there weren't any sidewalks, but curbs w/ strip of concrete. The only reason we didn't buy, was no safe place to walk with the kids or dog. Thanks for addressing this to help Denver grow as a people friendly, active place to live!
Zach Franzgen	Urban hiker and bicyclist as well as a home owner
Virginia wells	I walk a lot, and we need to make Denver a healthy community. Adding sidewalks will make it safer and encourage walking in our neighborhoods for generations.
Dean Myerson	Our sidewalks and curbs are a mess in my neighborhood.
Fontaine Burruss	I like to walk
Deborah Harrington	Our neighborhood has areas without sidewalks, so people walk in the street, which is dangerous and more than a little scary.

Brendalee Herrick	There is a lot of pedestrian traffic on Monaco Pkwy, a very busy main thoroughfare. Walking on this street and negotiating fast moving traffic is down right dangerous. A lot of the pedestrians are children. Side walks would also make Denver a health friendly city by making it easier to take a walk or ride a bike safely. Thank you.
Sarah Linke	I have dogs and have almost been run over on 52nd because there is no barrier between the sidewalk and the road.
Dennis Swain	I agree that we need to increase the quality and extent of our sidewalk network.
Diana Helper	We have been working on this for years, and developed the Sidewalk resolution INC has edorsed. A small regular fee is a great saving over the cost to a homeowner for having to put in his or her own walk-- if this were really enforced. We have been told that the city can'y do this because first it would need the money, which it has never put into the budget. The sooner we begin saving for sidewalks, the sooner the city can start.
Justin Bowers	I like walking
Lucina Hoover	There is not walkway were I live
Sharlie Mello	I would have thought that fees and taxes already paid, all of these years, would have entitled neighborhoods to already have sidewalks. Sidewalks create safe neighborhoods and Denver is living in the dark ages by having so many neighborhoods without proper sidewalks.
Elaine Erb	The ability to walk within our communities is crucial.
Travis Russell	Denver needs to be a vibrant urban density focused city moving forward
Susan Gemmill	As soon as the weather cools, I walk to every meeting, errand, meet-up with friends. Twice, I've nearly been hit by a car. It's time to make Denver much more walkable!
Ben Pingilley	I live in a walkable neighborhood and love it. Everyone deserves to live in a walkable neighborhood.
James Schmidt	Safety reasons
Robert Rowe	This is common sense. Why aren't we funding sidewalks?!?
Devin Quince	it makes sense.
Kate Sirots	I'm signing because the Mayfair/Montclair neighborhood where I live does not have adequate sidewalks. Sidewalks are either too narrow, forcing strollers to be pushed in the middle of the street, or nonexistent. This is dangerous and not what I would expect of an up-and-coming neighborhood.

Carly Sieff	I walk all over Denver and want a safer, more connected network of pedestrian facilities for all trip types.
Diana Chambliss	This is near and dear to my heart!
Jack Unruh	No sidewalks says "Take your chances in the road," narrow slant curb-sidewalks say the same thing, trip-and-fall heaved and buckled sidewalks: ditto! Walking stops where the choice is between your car and unsafe, unwelcoming pedestrian options.
Linda Owen	I grew up in a city which in the past provided amenities for economic levels of its citizenry. We can't all drive cars to the grocery store and still have breathable air.
Patrick Millican	Imagine a great city with SIDEWALKS!!!!
FLETCHER DAVIS	Sidewalks keep people safe!
Evan Icolari	I believe that a city like Denver, at the foot of the Rocky Mountains should encourage its citizenry to walk to the huge number of attractions that exist in places other than right downtown
Carrie Tentori	It has always seemed ludicrous to me that homeowners have to keep the sidewalks repaired. There is no consistent enforcing of the ordinance and the way it usually comes up to the city's attention is when an irate neighbor calls it in. Then the neighbor who has been reported has to shell out money when they can easily walk other parts of the sidewalks in the same neighborhood that are as bad or worse than the one they are required to repair. The only way to bring it to the city's attention is to, again, report it. So, rather than promoting good feelings among neighborhoods and building community, the city is undermining that by having us police our neighbors.
Paul Adams	Safe walking places are critical for neighborhoods.
Hanni Ruehrdanz	I'm signing because sidewalks are the first step to making the community whole! Sidewalks are our connection to our neighbors, businesses, and friends. Accessibility for all people must be a priority, no longer should our neighbors utilizing mobility aides (wheelchairs, walkers, etc) be forced into the street!!!
Jamie Elsbury	It's unreal that this is left up to homeowners when it should be provided by the city of Denver to have safe sidewalks.
Roberta Richardson	Traffic gets worse by the day. We have to encourage walking!
Dele Johnson	I'm signing because sidewalks are essential to safe neighborhoods and every neighborhood of Denver should be safe!

Name	Comment
Sheryl Schmatjen	Sidewalks are essential for safety factors in this overrun (with cars) city. Traffic is horrible, and no sidewalks makes most people think twice about walking if there is a choice about taking one's vehicle. It is such backward thinking to assign the huge and unpredictable cost to individual property owners. They cannot competitively fund this expense, and the lack of uniformity would probably not be acceptable to the city anyway. It must be made affordable, and this would be a workable solution for affordability.
Susan Bardwell	One reason that Capitol Hill and some other Denver neighborhoods are so desirable to live in is their street trees and 5-foot detached city sidewalks(BOTH currently the responsibility of the adjacent property owners). The potential for pooled resources to ensure that all Denver residents can safely walk in their neighborhoods is an exciting idea!
Austin Pulford	All Denver residence deserve walkable neighborhoods!
Chris Lasonde	I want to be able to go for walks with my family without having to lift my kids strollers over uneven and cracked sidewalks.
Dana Woods	Walking should be encouraged. Make it safe by having sidewalks.
Danielle Worden	I want sidewalks in Monyclair Mayfair
Joe Mauro	A 'world-class' city deserves basic infrastructure like good sidewalks!
Renee whitley	I live in Skyland and my neighborhood desperately needs sidewalks. I often find myself walking in the street with my babies in their stroller, it's just not safe.
manny garcia	only in poor neighborhoods that the city overlooks issues like this in Denver!!!
Nathanael Nerode	Major streets without sidewalks are just plain dangerous for pedestrians, and everyone is a pedestrian sometimes. I used to visit Denver, but I stay out of entire swathes of the city because I don't want to go anywhere without sidewalks. The current 18th-century sidewalk funding system in Denver is obviously a total failure. The city should be building sidewalks with a dedicated funding stream, same as roads. Where I live we just implemented a dedicated "sidewalk fee" and sidewalk fund last year, and the sidewalks have improved massively in just one year. It's wonderful.
Jane Young	I walk everywhere and sidewalks are important.
Kenneth Hadlock	Sidewalks & bike paths are the responsibility of city government
Tom Carllon	Good sidewalks are a matter of public safety.
Rob Ollett	Protected sidewalk and biking lanes should be a basic component of city design, not an upgrade or optional feature.
Jake Cohen	Walking and biking are essential to Denver's culture.

Colin Reisser	A walkable city is essential for safety, leisure, and economic vitality.
Jessica Hemingson	I cannot walk the four blocks to the local coffee shop with my toddler in a stroller, because there are no sidewalks between us and them. It is unsafe to walk in the street on 13th and 14th, but seems a little absurd to drive.
Monica Arnett	We need safer places to walk
S Klaas	I am a walker as well!
Nate Ragolia	I walk to work daily. Even where sidewalks are plentiful, the city remains car-centric. For Denver to become a 21st century leader, it needs to embrace renewable transit like walking and biking, and sidewalks make that happen.
Ronne Kuhn	Walk in central Denver a lot.
Ryan Amirault	I previously lived in Denver and certainly would have walked more in my neighborhood if there were more and better sidewalks. Sidewalks are critical for getting more people to consider using their two feet instead of their four tires to get places.
Jennifer Fife	If the people want side walks, give em side walks!
Elizabeth Snow	Walkability of neighborhoods enhances our quality of life and allows us to more easily meet neighbors. Having sidewalks that are wide enough to push a stroller and smooth enough to not trip and fall are key to encouraging people to walk.
Manley Daniel	I love to walk!
Sarah Camacho	There are so many streets without sidewalks in Barnum (my neighborhood). Sometimes a sidewalk will suddenly end at someone's house, only to pick up again two houses farther down the street. It's very difficult to get around with a stroller (and there are many, many parents in our neighborhood), and I imagine it's almost impossible if you're in a wheelchair.
Roberta Genty	I walk! Too many of our sidewalks are inadequate for people without disabilities, let alone those with challenges.
Anton Usaj	People in Denver need to have safe sidewalks.
Sarah Mos	I lived in Washington, DC for 7 years without owning a car. I want my hometown to be equally committed to multiple transportation options.
Gabriel Estep	Me and my lady almost got into accident due to bumps and Lack of Government's Attention toward Civilian's needs ... OH and Even Handicapped. Lame Lame!
Anand Chiluka	We all support this cause.
Katherine Kautz	Many people have to walk when they go out. It is very unsafe to walk along the side of the road. Denver has a lot of hit and runs and must be made safer.

Margaret Bickmore	Sidewalks are so important for quality of life issues. When people feel safe walking, they walk more, which is good for them as individuals as well as for neighborhoods.
Susan Dominica	I visit Denver often and like to walk
Natalie Good	While I live in Broomfield I frequently go to Denver & want better walking areas there.
Troy Halouska	I don't like walking in the street. Denver discourages the use of cars, so they need to provide for pedestrians!
Margot Williams	Walking needs to be safe.
Harper Jocque	A human being is the fundamental unit of a city. We need to let humans operate in our city, and embrace the future (which includes pedestrians, bikes, cars and public transport) not resign ourselves to the death sentence sprawl that has so injured cities like Detroit and Phoenix. Sidewalks support mentally and physically healthier communities. Also I'm bloody SICK of walking on the crumbling edges.
Francis Rooney	I try to complete as many trips as possible on foot. Lack of sidewalks makes daily tasks more difficult and cuts off neighborhoods from the rest of the city.
Joanne McLain	I often visit various locations in Denver for work and entertainment. Walking is hard in some areas.
Valerie Etter	Walkers and bicyclists are good for our environment and our health improves in the mean time.
Carolyn Burkhardt-Padgett	I hate walking in denver and am always in fear of being hit by a car. It's not smart.
Steven Rouk	I think that there are few better things to invest in than walking and biking infrastructure! Contribute to health, community, and safety of our communities.
Amy Spetnagel	I want to make Denver a more walker and biker friendly city-
J Duncan	While you're adding new sidewalks, perhaps you can fix the atrocious sidewalks in Clayton. I know it's a black and hispanic neighborhood, so we rarely have anything fixed/upgraded/etc, but it would be great if you could get a handle on that and fix the dangerous sidewalks in this area of town.
David Mansfield	Boulder needs to do this too.
Jennifer Superka	I live in Sunnyside where sidewalks often disappear. With the new lightrail station opening next year, I am looking forward to a more walkable neighborhood with better access for everyone.
Carol Balkcom	Walking every day is critical to good health as we age. And, safe sidewalks and appropriate curb cuts for disabled people should be the standard.

phil swenson	so many people don't maintain their sidewalks. they are dangerous in many places
Phil Jaax	I do not own a car am self sustainable and walk and run everywhere in town and believe this is only a liability on the city that causes harm to innocent people. The city already wastes plenty of money, time to put it towards something that would be made for good use by pedestrians, bicycles, recreationalists and children.
Susan Bissey	Good luck getting Denver to do anything positive for residents!!
Marva Short Bey	We need a consistent budget to build, fix and repair sidewalks in Denver.
Jaime Lewis	I am transit dependent and I use a wheelchair to stay independent.
Adam Brock	I live in a residential neighborhood with many young children, yet many of our streets lack any kind of sidewalk for them to walk on.
Elizabeth Booth	I'm signing because I've witnessed more than a few persons in wheelchairs using the street because the sidewalk was so badly damaged that it was unusable. This is a dangerous and unacceptable situation for myriad reasons.
Douglas Laub	I believe it's a basic right of all residents of the city to have a safe and inviting place to walk along the streets of their own city!
Anita Roberts	I work in Denver and there are many areas in the metro city area where construction occurs and there is no safe place to walk with no sidewalk.
Claire Phillips	I am a resident of Denver. The law needs to change from owners being responsible and Denver needs to get going on making our city more "nontraffic" and people friendly.
Frances FrainAguirre	I know, personally, how dangerous it is to walk in many parts of the city.
Bill Burman	I am signing because sidewalks are a key part of improving the walkability, and hence, the health of Denver.
thomas kuehler	this whole sidewalk thing is illegal; if I were in a wheelchair I'd be one pissed off resident....
Julie Meyers	I walk a lot in Congress Park and the sidewalks are in disrepair. I trip frequently and when it rains, some depressed areas get flooded and are unworkable.
Marilyn Mitchell	Of course, I want the safety of well-maintained sidewalks, but I also want the benefit of higher property values that good sidewalks add to my neighborhood of Congress Park.
Love-Osborne Kathy	definitely would make a big difference.
Thai Bui	I'm signing because I live on a corner lot and have a lot of sidewalk to maintain!

Kim Erickson	We need to get people walking more, safe sidewalks are key element. Too many people are walking in the streets because so many sidewalks in Denver are in disrepair, unsafe or nonexistent. The health and safety of our citizens needs to be a high priority. Businesses, land owners and home owners are selling their properties at high profits shouldn't their sidewalks be in good repair as part of the sale! We need multiple approaches to improve the walk ability of our neighborhoods.
Susan Screven	I can't count the number of times I have tripped on or caught a shoe on the rickety sidewalks of Denver. Love the city, but NOT the sidewalks!
Richard McClintock	We are all pedestrians at some point in our day and sidewalks are a community benefit that deserve community funding.
Anne Misak	Denver needs to become a much more bike/pedestrian/transit friendly city if it is going to deal with all the population growth predicted. Taking control of and creating/fixing its sidewalks is an important step in this process.
Carls Witt	Sidewalks are crucial for people's health and well being. I would be happy to pay a fee for the city to maintain sidewalks.
Sarah Tiers	Heavy traffic without sidewalks is really dangerous. Let's make it safe.
Erin Fosdick	Sidewalks contribute tremendously to making great communities. Denver is on it's way to becoming a great community and sidewalks in all areas of the City are needed!
Aubrey Hill	I love walking everywhere -- I walk to work, to the store, to see friends... everyone should have this opportunity.
Theresa Mickiewicz	Safe sidewalks saves lives and this should not be an equity issue
Gabriel Finkelstein	I have feet.

Marsha Murphy	There are not sidewalks along many parts of Sheridan. This is clearly an oversight and a safety issue for bicyclists and pedestrians. While I do not agree with the funding ideas suggested, pooling resources or looking for possible resources is necessary. Before private sidewalks are done, take a look at the areas they are non existent or 2 feet wide at best. Think Mom with stroller next to busy street???? We need to make safe pedestrian and alternative transportation methods are supported for our population. The city probably already has a concrete crew. Look at any job where there are overages in the amount poured, plug the waste into sidewalks. All the places Xcel utilities have to mess up the streets for power or Sewers and Water need to be redone. These areas disrupt a neighborhood traffic flow while occurring. How nice it would be if there were a small local improvement paired with the big job that benefitted locals. Some ideas to consider or spark others. My first response "went" without my authorization., Please register my comment but do not negate my signing because of being on twice. Just count once. Tx.
Mary DeSimone	I agree that safe & well maintained sidewalks are essential in every neighborhood!
Rev Fidel "Butch" Montoya	I am signing because sidewalks are needed from from 49th Avenue & Sheridan Blvd., North to West 52nd Avenue. West 52nd Avenue West from Sheridan Blvd. to Clear Creek Bridge. (City limits). Heavy pedestrian use...no handicapped accessibilty! Please consider sidewalks along these heavy traffic corridors.
Carol Fryer	I live on Sheridan Blvd with a 35 mph speed limit in front of my house. Dog walkers, bicyclists, families with strollers walk on lumpy dirt within a foot of cement trucks, cars, semi's. I hold my breath in the winter time. We need sidewalks.
Michael Swansegar	Ever try to walk a sleeping baby in a stroller on denver's sidewalks? The baby doesn't sleep long when going off road.
Robert Lorenz	The perimeter of our neighborhood: Sheridan Boulevard, 48th Avenue, Harlan Street and 52nd Avenue needs saidewalks.
Cortney Holles	This is a social justice issue.
Michael McCall	I'm signing because the sidewalks in my neighborhood suck, and the city should be able to fix them. It's not practical to expect owners to fix sidewalks in areas with a lot of renters/tenants.
Matthew Paradise	I want to maintain my property value!
Hannah Warner	My brother and his wife do not have sidewalks at their new home. I would hope that by the time they had kids they would be able to go on walks safely.
David Stockbridge	Too many places lack safe safe walkways

William Luster	There are too many busy streets with ZERO walkways in the middle of the city! 13th and 14th aves from Colorado blvd east to the Aurora border need sidewalks now marleta sullivan	having lived in various locations around the city, i have been in areas with no side walks, areas with sidewalks on random blocks and not on others, and areas with well maintained sidewalks. I prefer the latter! it is much safer!!
Mary Ann Thompson	I'm signing because I am 77 years old and try to walk and combine walking and taking the bus to almost all places in Denver, including King Soopers (2 block away from my home).
Lorin Crandall	I'm signing because I want Denver's pedestrian infrastructure to provide complete access to the city for all people.
Julia Dullien	I am a student and resident in Denver and walk around town...Denver needs better sidewalks and more sidewalks
Stephanie Morrison	I'm signing because there are no sidewalks along 17th street in my neighborhood. I want to go for longer walks and it's a pain when I have to zigzag around looking for sidewalks.
M H	I walk in Denver daily for transportation--to work, to the store, to my child's school, to the library, to any place else I need or want to go. I walk sometimes by choice and sometimes by necessity. Often walking is the most convenient and most responsible transportation option for me. I see many others who walk in my neighborhood and throughout the city. Sidewalks in my neighborhood and many other places in the city are very insufficient. Our transportation infrastructure should serve pedestrians just as it serves motorists and bicyclists.
Ann Long	I worry about the safety of pedestrians and wheelchair users when I see them in or close to streets.
Karen Erickson	My neighbor hood, East Colfax, is in desperate need of side walks. We deal with extreme issues of criminal activity, low income housing, apathy and all the issues that go along with them. Recently chosen for the Sustainable Neighborhoods program, sidewalks would help us see this vision through. It is very hard to walk to the bus or businesses in the street or on people's lawns. We need to help people get out and about. This will help us take our hood back!
Patricia Deml	I've been wondering about this issue since I moved here. Now I'm disabled and walk every day. there is only one route that I can take due to the lack of side walks in my East Montclair neighborhood.

A Ross	I agree we need sidewalks on all streets, not just some as there are in my neighborhood.
Ed Wasserman	I'm signing this petition because Denver needs sidewalks.
Joy Barrett	I want my kids to be able to walk to school safely.
Janice Ferguson	I'm signing because our neighborhood does not have sidewalks. People walking dogs, kids in strollers, trying to get to business, even getting to the bus is dangerous as we must walk in the street between and around parked cars. We have been trying to improve pedestrian safety and get sidewalks in this area for at least 20 years.
aldo Knepper	I think it improves the neighborhood
Maggie Lyons	I firmly believe that sidewalks are a necessary component of a healthy and successful city, for the benefit of the lives of citizens of all ages.
Lily Lizarraga	I believe in equal access for all residents. Walkable, healthy and safe neighborhoods, where residents are provided with a variety of transportation options.
Joshua Weiss	I walk to work most days
Natasha Kasprzyk	Walking = connection. People need to feel safe while walking in order for them to walk more. Walking builds community. Community matters. The City of Denver needs to make this a funding priority.
Chris DeThomas	Our sidewalks help make our city safer and more liveable.
Chris Skoog	If they're not gonna fix the POTHOLEs, then at least fix us up some damn sidewalks!
Gabriel Hess	I'm signing because I want my community to be walkable—because cars should not be the only means of transportation, among other things.
Roxanne Hess	I live in Denver; I love going on walks with my baby, but I have to plan my routes carefully, because there either might not be sidewalks or the sidewalks will be too narrow for a stroller.
STEVAN HIDALGO	I deserve to live with sidewalks in my neighborhood.
Mary Grushka	Sidewalks remove stress from the wonderful exercise of walking. Please let this happen.
Bettina Schaden	Sidewalks are an important element in the transportation system and should be beautiful, well-maintained and present on every street. The City needs to take responsibility for this.
Eliza Lanman	Having safe sidewalks minimizes social isolation, increases access to vital resources and services and improves the health and safety of our neighborhoods.

Melissa Cardona	My children and I trip all the time on uneven and neglected sidewalks. It is not safe for the young and old.
Julie Rudiger	I know there are areas in Denver that do not have sidewalks and this is hazardous to walkers and drivers
Dru Pattan	I have an 8 month old little girl and another on the way. We love our neighborhood and consider ourselves so fortunate to live in walking distance to so many great establishments. Maneuvering a stroller on the broken sidewalks of our Berkeley neighborhood is no easy task. We had to purchase an all terrain stroller just to accomplish this safely. In a less heavy duty stroller our little girl use to get so shaken up and scream due to the bumpy ride. She is very close to walking and that is all ready nerve wracking, but having her walk over these inconsistent sidewalks adds a whole new level of nervousness. Please help us get this problem resolved. We love this neighborhood and how family friendly it is. This is the next step in making it even better!
michael mack	i feel uniform sidewalks are important
Rick Martinez	There is a street by my house that doesn't have a sidewalk, it's Mudd in the winter and spring..it's unusable. It is also dangerous because pedestrians walk the street instead and it looks awful.
Hannah Philip	I walk with a baby in a stroller everywhere as I don't have a car and it is ludicrous when the sidewalk suddenly disappears for a half mile.
linda hamlin	Every neighborhood should have safe places to walk.
Deborah Clendenning	As a person with mobility issues, good sidewalks are essential for being able to walk safely.
Barbara Masoner	When possible I either walk or ride my bike to my destinations. All too often I don't feel safe walking as there are no sidewalks to separate pedestrians from motorists. By providing more sidewalks Denver will encourage more residents to walk to their destinations and in turn we'll have a healthier population.

Something has to be done and I've been on this campaign against the cities lax enforcement of sidewalk repairs for the past 15 years – ever since I've moved from Boulder where the sidewalks are always in excellent condition.
Sherry Sanders	Everyone should be able to safely walk where they need to, and it greatly helps to have usable sidewalks and curb cuts for wheelchairs, walkers, crunchers and canes.
Randy Kilbourn	I am signing because the sidewalks on Capitol Hill are in horrible shape and as a person who uses a wheelchair, it is unsafe for me to travel around my own neighborhood.
Tina McDonald	Although I live in Northglenn, I travel via bus into the city quite a bit. Currently, I have to walk with my walker in many of the streets because the sidewalks are in such poor condition, especially in the winter, when I am unable to see cracks and hazards that would trip me.
Camille Dye	I see handicapped wheelchair occupants riding down the street with cars, a very dangerous situation. I once saw a wheelchair occupant followed by a dump truck and ten cars on 26th Avenue. There is no reason disabled folks should have to endanger their lives because the city will not provide sidewalks.

Stephanie Barnhizer	Streets and sidewalks create connections to and within the community. Does Denver want the message to all people to be "we do not believe in supporting community"?
Philip Hickey	Walking is a legitimate means of transportation, and infrastructure that supports it is vital to sustainable communities
Alecia Brown	kids can't ride bikes or scooters in the neighborhood because of bad sidewalks and streets
Stuart Holden	Sidewalks provide safety
MATT PEDIGO	I walk and bike as often as possible. When walking, it is impossible to ignore how uneven and dangerous sidewalks are on many streets in Cap Hill neighborhood.
Robert Nogueira Jr	With more than 300 days of sunshine, Denver should be the most walkable city in the US!
Linda Gregory	The sidewalks in our neighborhood are in terrible shape. I personally have tripped over big cracks in sidewalks.
julie Reiskin	I rely on sidewalks
Buskohl Cherrie	Every city resident deserves to be able to walk safely on a sidewalk in their neighborhood.
Vincent Bowen	Sidewalks are essential to creating a sense of community, fostering healthy lifestyles through walking and improving general quality of life.
Kirk Norlin	We have no sidewalks in our neighborhood, and whether you're walking or driving - it can be dangerous at times when both pedestrians and cars share the streets.
Janet Caspers	We need sidewalks in our neighborhood!!!
Thomas Ciesla	Some sidewalks are hazardous. particularly during winter!
Stephanie Caraway	Denver is not a safe enough place for pedestrians.
Margaret Schnipper	This is essential. Denver's sidewalks are a shambles. In summer of 2015 I tripped on the uneven sidewalk of 8th Avenue in Congress Park and broke my collar bone. There was no reason for this area of sidewalk or any others in the city to get to the point where they are treacherous. And while we're at, property owners should be responsible for snow removal and it should be enforced by the city.
William Evans	Everyone, not just the homeowner, uses the sidewalks
JOHN HUTCHINSON	I have fallen on uneven sidewalk that stick up 2" higher than adjoining slabs...
Ché McGuire	I can't walk east, west or north from my house. The children in the neighborhood must be driven one block to school. The safest place to walk is the alley. What a shame, still a one horse cow town.

Cyrus Martin	With the state's population slated to double by 2050, Denver is in a unique position to lead the charge to a more sustainable future for all Coloradans. Improving the sidewalk network throughout this wonderful city would ensure greater quality of life for those who cannot or choose not to drive, and would provide a safer, more community-centered transit option for the people of Denver.
Chris Meehan	Walkable streets are important in every neighborhood, as are proper places to cross even large, multi-lane streets.
Becki Estes	I would appreciate any assistance in improving the neighborhood. As well as the assistance in maintaining my walkway.
Thomas Ciesla	Cap Hill has some pretty sad sidewalks, that have been neglected by property owners, probably because of expense or indifference but if they were sued because neglecting their civic responsibility caused an accidental bodily injury, they would think twice...
Jed Goldstein	It's a great idea.
Elizabeth Skoff	I love our neighborhoods and want to be able walk through them safely.
john blaising	It is about time the city put resources into this basic infrastructure.
Monica Younger	Walkable neighborhoods are crucial for healthy communities
Teri Smith	Property owners do not "own" the sidewalks within their property boundaries. The city owns that property, therefore the city should be responsible for maintaining it.
Scott Fidge	With the crazy growth Denver is experiencing, we really need to start focusing on accessibility to non-automobile transportation. At the very minimum, we need more/better sidewalks and more/better bike lanes.
Alejandra Castaneda	I love to walk and believe everyone should have access to safe, clean, well-maintained sidewalks. Motion is the essence of health!
Charles Buscemi	people should be able to walk safely around town at all times, but especially after a snow storm, rather than being forced to walk in the street with car traffic
Jennifer Burstein	Side walks are so important for the walkability of our neighborhood and our city!
Alison McGoff	I want our neighborhood to be more walker friendly.

Barbara Trenchard	It can be very expensive to maintain a sidewalk, especially if you have an older home where the sidewalk was already in disrepair when you bought the house and/or roots from larger trees impacting the sidewalk that also need to be protected. Also, people who live on corners have much more sidewalk to take care of. A bit unfair perhaps to them.
Janice Brenner	We need safe sidewalks all around Denver. My primary concern is having a safe path between Stapleton North of I-70 and the Central Park Rail Station, especially a safe way (underpass) to cross I-70 at Quebec.
Michele Olivier	I want better sidewalks in the city so I can take my stroller out with my 2 kids and enjoy this beautiful city of ours!
Carlos E. Catalano	Sidewalks are horrible in Denver. I walk frequently and am often tripping. Only a matter of time before someone gets hurt from this preventable situation.
Colleen Catalano	Our sidewalks are in horrible shape, a trip hazard. Ive seen several walkers trip outside of our home.
Cindy Wagstaff	We need consistent sidewalks in Hale/Bellvue and Mayfair/Montclair. We have missing sidewalks and sidewalks in disrepair where residents cannot afford or choose not to repair existing sidewalks. Linsley Park needs a sidewalk on 11th in places. I feel the city should pay for this and use marijuana or other taxes.
Joanne Miltenberger	My husband and I always walk to run errands if it is less than 5 to 6 miles round trip
Joan Eden	There are many streets in the Observatory Park and Southern Hills neighborhoods that do not have sidewalks. On some streets there are one or two sidewalks in front of homes in a given block. Broken concrete (due to old cement and roots of trees breaking the sidewalk) can be found on almost every street.
Lizette Shalter	I live in the neighborhood and agree that the sidewalks should be kept up by the gov and not the homeowner to ensure safety for all
Mark Reinhardt	I'm tired of risking my life walking on icy streets.
Thomas Metzler	I've reported a damage curb & gutter over a year ago, plus a broken up sidewalk and the city of Denver just ignores it. I have repaired part of the sidewalk but on a fixed senior income cannot afford to repair it all. I'm in favor of a small tax to do these repairs.
David Hyde	I prefer to walk over driving.
Jon Wachter	We need sidewalks so the kids can get to school a little more safely.
Michael Koslow	mobility options start with walking!
Chip Colwell	We need our city to be beautiful and walkable!
John Albers	I support the need for good sidewalks throughout the city

Brittany Wirth	I'm signing because my sidewalks are dangerous. I trip all the time. I scared of seriously injuring myself.
cynthia loretti	the sidewalks here are in such bad shape that mothers with strollers have to walk in the street and the elderly are in likely danger of tripping and falling.
Alexander Wolff	duh we need sidewalks and We Lowly renters can't do anything about it cara cairns	We need sidewalks. This is something city council should handle.
Trae Barrett	I want a walkable and safe neighborhood which is difficult without the demarcation that sidewalks provide.
Chris Johnson	I have sidewalks in my area, but walk in many (because I enjoy walking) that do not and it always feels strange walking in the street (and dangerous).
Jacob Weitz	I like nice smooth sidewalks
Andrea Gammell	It's important for the city to be responsible for important infrastructure projects like sidewalks. Requiring residents to maintain their own portion of the sidewalk results in poor quality sidewalks, inconsistencies and unevenness between properties, and areas where there simply are no sidewalks. It is unsafe for children, anyone who walks, or for those who use wheelchairs or other assistance devices to have poorly maintained or non-existent sidewalks. Particularly in less affluent neighborhoods, the absence of sidewalks, or the lack of maintenance of those that do exist, contributes to the stigma associated with a poorer neighborhood's appearance.
Tara Clack	I feel it is important to create and maintain connectivity in our neighborhoods. It should be on local government to facilitate this for its citizens by making it a walkable community. Without this it has been proven to cause neighborhoods to become disjointed and lead to an increase in crime and even poverty. All citizens of all ages and abilities should have the right to get around their city with ease and with safety.
Brian Hilbert	I think all our neighborhoods deserve sidewalks.
Bob Freyer	Worst sidewalks of anywhere I have ever lived.
Aziza Cano	As a blind individual who travels independently with a service animal, the maintenance and safety of the sidewalks in my City are very important to me. Having safe and reliably maintained sidewalks ensures that I can continue to travel safely and independently without the fear that my service dog might be injured by dysfunctional sidewalks, or cars passing too close to us when there are none available.
william heurlin	Denver needs safe walking routes for residents and school children
Daniel O'Connor	I'm tired of walking my dog in traffic

DORIS B SCHATZ	I have never felt safe when taking my two-year old grandson for a walk in their Sunnyside neighborhood because of the lack of sidewalks in many places and the narrowness of them where they do exist -- too narrow for a stroller. It's even worse now that he's walking because little if anything separates the streets from the pedestrian sides of the streets.
Camerob Rothluebber	We lived in denver and will be moving back with our twins and would prefer a home with sidewalks, so we can safely walk and ride bikes with our family.
Klaus Schatz	I need sidewalks to walk in my neighborhood
Stephen Simon	Our streets are not safe for pedestrians without proper sidewalks.
Lauren gutenplan	I want to make the sidewalks safer for my children, grandparents and visually impaired son who trips on the cracks and holes frequently.
Brianna Seefeldt	There are not enough continuous sidewalks in my neighborhood.
Ernesto Prado	I believe that we can make Denver the most walkable city in the nation and this is a good way to start.
Allison Phipps	The sidewalks in west Denver are old and crumbling. I have seen pedestrians who would have been on the side walk but couldn't because of bad conditions be hit or nearly hit by traffic. Improving the walk ways of this city is a top priority for all our active residents!
Georgina Bush	New in USA from a city, I know how vital it is for ALL ages to be able to walk walk and more walk. Apart from this being what humans are meant to do, it results in closer communities and health. For various reasons some people do not drive. Public Transit and walking are vital parts of our environment. I support this 100%..
Christina Smith	I like to walk on sidewalks with my children instead of sharing the street with cars
Kristin Jones	Every community deserves to be healthy and connected. Public investment in sidewalks is an investment in public health and equality.
Cathrine Bober	We use the sidewalks around Park Hill all the time and they are so important to the neighborhood!
Brad Weinig	The sidewalks in my neighborhood are inadequate. And they are a lot better than those in the all to many neighborhoods in this City and region that have next to no sidewalk infrastructure.
Laura Saunders	I'm signing this because we need sidewalks in Denver. Safer for both pedestrians and for car/bike commuters!
Sarah Karaz	Everyone, especially children deserve to be SAFE!!!!
Gary Burandt	safety

Amanda Grout	Walkable streets are an essential component of livable, thriving and sustainable communities.
Valerie Sheffield	I live in East Montclair. There are no sidewalks on 13th, 14th, or 17th. Walking on Colfax is a challenge at best, and is uncomfortable for me since
Kelly Woodward	I live in a neighborhood without continuous sidewalks and have four young children. It is dangerous to simply take a walk with them or walk them to school 3 blocks away.
Kari Dunn	The sidewalks are awful
Denny Hovik	I'm signing because I walk daily. The doctor says WALK, the dog says WALK and I love to WALK. We need good, safe sidewalks to walk on.
Preston Hampton	I like sidewalks
Amy Sublette	All our kids should have a safe route to walk to their neighborhood school.
CArol Maclennan	Walking is good for health, and walking is the #1 preferred form of physical activity for the largest group of people. If Denver wants to be the healthiest city in the U.S., we should offer our residents the basic infrastructure - a great sidewalk system - for travel and regular exercise.
Vaughan Kendall	We our children and their grandparents need safe way to walk neighborhood and adjacent areas
Laura Verlander	More cost effective and efficient for city instead of homeowners to be in charge of sidewalks.
Dana O'Connor	Denver's current sidewalks are dangerous.
Nora Hawks	Our beautiful neighborhood has hardly any sidewalks to make it a safe place for pedestrians.
Marvia Valdez	We have a neighborhood with strong pedestrian usage. There are gaps in sidewalks which lead to safety issues. A funding source other than added homeowner fees should be part of the plan.
Josh Hohl	We deserve good sidewalks
Timothy Frees	Walking is the single best exercise for me. Plus I prefer to interact with a neighborhood, not just pass through it.
Keith Fuicelli	A city as great and fit as Denver should have great sidewalks
Brian Binford	We need sidewalk repairs.
syd timme	Sidewalks make communities better!
Rob Groll	I think it's a great idea that the city takes over the sidewalks and brings them up to code.
Glynnis Gilbert	I walk my dog frequently and have to avoid streets with no sidewalks. Very important for people, children, animals, strollers, etc. to travel safely!!
Deborah Williams	We need our sidewalks. I am a resident! and i walk.

Rachel Fewell	I live in a neighborhood where there are limited sidewalks, pushing walking residents into the street.
Laura Zortman	Nothing worse then falling on a sidewalk that hasn't been maintained ever!
Bill McQuinn	As a Park Hill resident, I am often frustrated not only by poor condition of sidewalks, but by frequently encountering blocks that have no sidewalks at all. It is important to me that Denver be a walkable city with safe sidewalks.
Pamela Quigley	Denver should encourage and be responsible for providing sustainable, safe alternatives to driving in the city. We should feel safe walking to local shops, restaurants, schools, etc. Let's make Denver the BEST city to live in!
Patrick Lee	I have lived in NE Denver for 16 years and quantity and quality of sidewalks has always been an issue
Penni Key	We need walkable neighborhoods!
Erik Kludasch	I am not able to walk my dog in my own neighborhood!
Amanda Kludasch	A family walk in my neighborhood shouldn't be an obstacle course.
Brian Young	These sidewalks need help.
Frank Mufic	We need a walkable city! Too much traffic already and it is only going to get worse as everyone continues to move here.
Sam Fox	Consistent sidewalk paths are the cornerstone of a happy, healthy and safe community. Denver deserves to present a better system to residents - lets work together to make it happen!
Erin Drake	Not every person uses a car to arrive from place-to-place in Denver, whether by choice or circumstance. Providing sidewalks will make the non-car experience more safe, enjoyable, and equitable. Sidewalks should be a public resource to promote safety and walkability, not a option that places the burden on private landowners to provide.
Margaret Sgier	I love walking around the neighborhood, but it becomes unsafe when you suddenly have to step out in the street to continue walking.
Carol Mielke	I want to walk around Denver on safe sidewalks.
James Clemens	I think having good sidewalks makes Denver a better place to live and work.
Daniel Putrino	I have a toddler and as she grows up I'd like her to explore the neighborhood, visit friends and go to park without having to walk in the street with traffic.
Amber Metzger	We need to promote all modes of transportation in our city, not just cars.
Joanne Bennett	I want to live in a city where it is easy to walk every day in order to do errands or for pleasure. Walking contributes to health so this is an important imperative.
Cedric Pereira	I like to walk around town and it is dangerous to do so without sidewalks.
Jonathan Woodward	There are many streets in my neighborhood (Hale) without sidewalks.

Lon Breslow	I love to walk instead of drive. Let's make that safer.
maya gurarie	Denver needs more sidewalks!
Lesley Gilbert	I like to walk with my children where we feel safe!
Aaron Goldhamer	I support walkable communities!
Angela Loder	If Denver wants to be a global city that attracts business and talent, it needs to step up it's game and take care of pedestrian transportation infrastructure like other major cities do. It's not safe or equitable and it doesn't promote active living. It is ridiculous that this was ever a policy in the first place and is certainly not up to the standards Denver aspires to.
Marie Meyer	... I remember having to push a baby stroller into the street because the sidewalk disappeared!
Diddiery Santana	I'm signing because I love Denver.
Kim Yuskis	Sidewalks are incomplete or do not exist in my neighborhood, between Wolff and Yates on 31st. 32nd - 23 on Zenobia, NE corner of Vrain and 31st etc.
Nate Owens	it's not just downtown, affluent neighborhoods, and transit corridors that need sidewalks.
